Renahan Plane Search Leads to Island Off B.C. Coast King In London and Empire Citizens Observe Armistice Anniversary

PLANE HUNTERS SEE SMOKE AT DUNDAS ISLAND

Fliers and U.S. Patrol Steamer to Visit Island South of Prince Rupert to Discover if Pilot Renahan and Two Companions There; Six Planes Join in Search of Northern B.C. For Pilot Burke and Two Companions.

A dispatch from Prince Rupert to-day reported Pilot Ansel Eckmann, during a flight Monday in search of Pilot Renahan and his two companions, missing since October 28, discovered a wisp of smoke coming from the south-eastern end of Dundas Island. Fog, however, swirled down before he could make an investigation and he came down alongside the U.S. Coastguard Cutter Cygan, also searching for the missing alman. As soon as weather conditions permit Eckmann and his two flying companions and the Cygan will investigate further in the hope that the Renahan plane may have landed on the island, as it is a very unusual place for anyone to be living.

D. M'ADIE NEW HEAD OF LOCAL KIWANIS CLUB

Elected President By Acclamation at Luncheon at Empress Hotel To-day

Seven Directors Named in Only Contested Field; Club Has Had Good Year

Donald M'Adie was elected president of the Kiwanis Club by acclamation at to-day's luncheon of the club. W. Ellis Brown was named vice-president, G. H. Stevens district trustee and F. Jordan, treasurer.

On the board of directors, the only division in which there was a contest, the following were elected: B. Johnson, William Luney, Hugh Leigh, Archie Gibbs, F. J. Crowhurst, D. McTavish and Victor King. Ten candidates stood for election. Harold Diggon, as district governor, also holds a place on the board.

GOOD REPORTS

Reports from the retiring president, G. H. Stevens and F. Jordan, treasurer, showed the affairs of the club to be in excellent order.

In his report, the retiring president stated there had been a slight decrease in membership, but that new men had been admitted to the club. Attendance was higher than last year, but still showed room for improvement. He read the entire list of speakers who had addressed the gathering during the year, noting that the programme committee had functioned extremely well.

The Victoria club had visited many outside clubs and had done everything to foster Kiwanis ideals, he said.

In some detail Mr. Stevens noted that the convention held here had been an outstanding event. Under the management of Mr. Diggon, the programme had gone off without a hitch.

R. B. SEARS

Considerable mention was made by the speaker regarding the tuberculosis campaign. He also dealt with the club's work with Boy Scouts as well as the group in the Y.M.C.A.

The club had also given a scholarship at Victoria College, he stated.

Sport activities and social functions had been greatly enjoyed. In closing he thanked the secretary, Walter Walker, and other officers on the executive for their co-operation throughout the year.

MARA LOSES SUIT AGAINST GENE TUNNEY

New York Supreme Court Jury Says Retired Champion Owes Him Nothing

Promoter's Action Was For $526,812 of Tunney's Earnings While at Top

Canadian Press
New York, Nov. 11.—Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight boxing champion of the world, does not owe Timothy J. Mara a cent, a New York Supreme Court jury decided to-day. Mara claimed $526,812.42 share of Tunney's ring earnings for helping to arrange the match at Philadelphia in 1926 in which Tunney won his championship from Jack Dempsey.

NEW YORK PLAN FAILED

The jury held for Tunney in his contention that Mara, a New York book-maker and boxing factor, had been enlisted only to try to have the fight held in New York, and that since it was not held here the contract was void.

The court had instructed that Tunney owed Mara all or none of the more than $500,000 which represented ten per cent. of Tunney's Philadelphia purse, twenty per cent. of his earnings as heavyweight champion and interest on both sums to date.

Jurors said they had stood ten to two for Tunney from the beginning of their deliberations. Three points taken before the unanimous verdict was obtained.

WORKERS WANT $7,000 DEFICIT OVERCOME SOON

Armistice-Red Cross Drive to Be Carried on Until Next Saturday

Everyone Asked to Do Their Bit to Relieve Distress of Disabled Men

Faced with a shortage of $7,000, a deficit which will be further increased when the $2,000 due to the Red Cross Workshop for poppies and wreaths is paid, the Armistice-Red Cross Committee has decided to continue the campaign for funds until Saturday. The headquarters will remain open for the rest of the week and every effort will be made to reach the objective of $20,000.

The "Flower of Remembrance" was in evidence in nearly every coat on Saturday. A supply was sent to veterans in the Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals, and to the Old Ladies' and Old Men's Homes so that the inmates might participate in the tribute of respect to the fallen.

Nearly $2,700 was realized from the street sales which, with the contributions received during the last two weeks, brought the total of the fund to $13,000. The inclement weather (Concluded on Page 2)

Delegation Seeks Property Seizing Rights Eliminated

Legislation Calling For Immediate Compensation From Municipalities Under Town Planning Act Asked For Uniform Assessments Throughout Province; Independent Court of Revision and Right to Appeal Also Asked in Interview With B.C. Government; Vancouver and Victoria Property Owners Join in Plea to Cabinet.

Legislation calling for the adoption of a uniform basis of assessment valuations throughout the province, the appointment of an independent court of revision and the unrestricted right of appeal from the court to the Supreme Court was sought by a representative delegation of Victoria and Vancouver business men who interviewed the Provincial Cabinet this morning.

A strongly worded resolution was also presented calling for an amendment to the Town Planning Act to eliminate the power of municipalities to confiscate property for street widening or other purposes without payment of full compensation when an owner is deprived of property for town planning purposes.

JOINT DELEGATION

The resolutions presented by Harry N. Fynn of the Vancouver Board of Trade were supported by a delegation representing the Civic Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, Associated Property Owners of the Vancouver Board of Trade, the Vancouver Real Estate Exchange and the Victoria Real Estate Board.

Consideration to the plea for changes in the Town Planning Act was promised and the matter was referred to Attorney-General Pooley. The matter of assessments was covered by a private bill it was pointed out, and would have to be taken up through a member of the Legislature.

The resolution on town planning read: "Whereas in the opinion of this meeting the imposition by civic authorities of confiscatory conditions as a condition of the granting of building permits, while at the same time declining to compensate the owner, is liable to set up reactions highly unfavorable to the interests of the city and of the owners of property, and to obstruct the progress of orderly town planning;

"And whereas section 14 of the Town Planning Act deprives any property owner from recovering compensation for the loss of the use of part of his property by reason of the mere passage of a by-law providing for street widening at some indefinite future date;

"Be it therefore resolved that this meeting humbly petitions the Provincial Government of British Columbia to introduce an amendment to the Town Planning Act at the earliest possible moment to provide for the payment of compensation to the owner of property when the use of part of the property is taken away from him by the passing of a by-law providing for street widening at some indefinite future date."

PREMIERS AND THE KING AT LONDON EVENT

Heads of Empire Governments With Sovereign at Armistice Day Ceremony

Solemn Scene in London as Great War Dead Are Honored

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 11.—The British Empire to-day kept the twelfth anniversary of the Armistice with ceremonies of silence and prayer that the horrors of the Great War may never be repeated.

An Empire-wide two-minute silence was observed at 11 a.m. while the King, symbolizing the grief of the Empire at the war losses, stood with bowed head in prayer at the Cenotaph in London, where just two years ago to-day he caught the cold which led to his long and serious illness.

PREMIERS BESIDE KING

The King stood between his sons, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York, with the Premiers of the Dominions and the princes of the Indian states flanking them, making a group truly representative of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Around them and the hollow square in Whitehall as far as the vision could penetrate through the grey haze to Trafalgar Square people were massed in unbroken silence. As the King and Queen bowed their heads in prayer, the sound of the great guns which marked the beginning of the great silence.

ALL WORE POPPIES

Nearly every man, woman and child in the country wore a Flanders poppy, emblem made by former service men on behalf of the veterans' funds. The King and Queen bought their poppies from some of the volunteer army of 300,000 who sold the tokens.

Outside Westminster Abbey there is a field of remembrance planted around a white cross which once marked an unknown soldier's grave in France. As the veterans sold the poppies they were stuck in the ground near the cross until it was surrounded with a blanket of red.

Everywhere there was a generous response to the appeal of the Prince of Wales for the war's disabled.

EMPIRE PREMIERS DISCUSS FOREIGN POLICY CHANGES

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Nov. 11.—The Empire Premiers to-day switched their programme. Meeting immediately after the solemn Armistice Day service at the Whitehall Cenotaph, they talked of foreign policy, deferring their discussion of the wheat quota purchasing plan until this afternoon.

Shortly after the Imperial Conference convened more than a month ago, Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Great Britain's Secretary for Foreign Affairs, circulated among the Empire delegations a memorandum setting forth the field of foreign policy. It was accompanied by a note requesting any Dominion delegation so desiring to indicate any particular item for discussion or on which it wanted further information.

ARMISTICE IS OBSERVED BY HUGE THROGG

Tribute Paid Memory of War Heroes at Cenotaph Ceremony To-day

Hon. R. R. Bruce Lays First of Great Array of Wreaths on Cenotaph

A solemn Armistice Day service was held this morning at the Cenotaph on Parliament Square and was attended by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, Miss Mackenzie, representatives of the naval and military forces, provincial and civic leaders and nearly 1,500 men and women. While the calm warmth of the morning was credited with having influenced the attendance, many of those present expressed the view that the huge gathering indicated the determination of the citizens to insist upon an adequate official annual tribute being paid to the memory of the dead of the Great War exactly at the hour of the Armistice, regardless of other observances which might be authorized.

The flag floating from the Parliament Buildings flagstaff was lowered to half mast, and the Cenotaph was surrounded on three sides by standards of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire. At each corner of the great granite pedestal stood a sentry with reversed arms, provided by H.M.C.S. Naden, the Garrison and the local militia regiments.

Lieutenant Governor Bruce was greeted upon his arrival by General Sir Percy Lake, marshalled for the ceremony, and with his escort took up a position facing the Cenotaph. His Honor was accompanied by Miss Mackenzie, Capt. Robert Molson, M.C., Lieut.-Commander A. Hope, R.C.N., Major P. Hennessey, D.S.O., and A. M. D. Fairbairn. His Honor took position with Commander L. W. Murray, R.C.N., at his right and Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown at his left, representing respectively the naval and military forces of Canada. ### U.S. DECLARES FOR PEACE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Washington, Nov. 11.—Armistice Day, 1930, a dozen years after bloodshed ended on the Western Front, saw the United States dedicating itself to the cause of peace.

The great and small of the capital turned to-day to the President for words of reassurance against renewal of war.

At two o'clock those whose memories went back to 1918 and the war years paid homage. On the hill at Arlington the Unknown Soldier, symbol of lost sons, was surrounded again by men who had committed him to that resting place, together with civilian and military leaders of the country. In Washington Cathedral faithful friends met at the tomb of Woodrow Wilson, war President.

President Hoover, after placing a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, spoke before the goodwill congress of the World Alliance for International Friendship, his words uttered against a background of urgings of lasting peace.

HOLY LAND TO VICTORIA

Where is the man or woman who has not the desire to visit the land across the sea? Who would not like to walk through the crooked streets and to gaze upon the wondrous horizon; who would not find supreme joy in making this journey to the country that we hear and read so much about. Now all this and much more has been made possible for practically all of us in walking the paths and seeing every location that is recorded in the Bible story.

Gaelic Brothers, after many years of labor and study of history are bringing to Victoria a public exhibition that is without doubt the most interesting and fascinating exhibit ever shown on the Island.

Taking a trip to the Holy Land is almost a duty. Where persons have to pay a good sum of money to visit those sacred places. But we are being given a chance to see a large, correct replica of the Holy Land, which is being fitted up with an eye to detail and equipped with marvelous life-like moving figures depicting scenes in Biblical history.

The mountains of Judea are shown in bold relief. The road from Jerusalem to Nazareth stretches out in white and winds its way around the mountains of Samaria. The River Jordan and the Dead Sea are shown.

This will be of great interest to the Bible student, one hour's study of this masterpiece will give you a greater knowledge of Palestine and the New Testament than years of study in a book.

Bishop C. D. Schofield, D.D., has given Gaelic Brothers permission to use the old Cathedral, as it is the only available building large enough to house the exhibit.

Barrows and Harry Blunt, were scheduled to proceed to Alaska via Yale, Prince George, Telegraph Creek and Atlin, and stop over at Atlin to join the search for Capt. R. J. A. Burke, Vancouver alman and two companions, who have been missing since October 11—exactly a month to-day—when they left Liard River post on a return flight to Atlin.

Edward A. Lowe Jr., president of the Pacific-International Airways, and his wife, were passengers aboard the larger of the two machines which left this morning. They started their flight to Atlin yesterday, but were forced to turn back at Yale because of weather conditions.

AT ATLIN

In the meantime a seaplane piloted by R. L. Van Der Byl and carrying W. A. Joers, who will direct the search operations out of Atlin, is on its way north. The plane, owned by the Air-land Manufacturing Co., left Vancouver on Sunday and reached Prince George that day. On Monday it continued to Atlin, and to-day was expected to reach Atlin.

There, Van Der Byl and Joers will join E. L. Wason, pilot for the Trans-Pacific Exploration Co., who is flying south from Mayo, Yukon. Wason has already made a number of search flights with Frank Dorbandt, Pacific International pilot, who is now at Anchorage, Alaska, after a flight from Seattle.

Two Royal Canadian Air Force machines piloted by Flight-Lieut. L. R. Flinn and Flying Officer C. R. Dunlap are expected to reach Prince Rupert to-day after battling fog and rain all the way north. They left Comox Lake, Vancouver Island, where they were stationed for photographic patrol, Sunday afternoon and stayed at Alert Bay overnight. From there they are conducting a search of the coast as they fly north.

There they will join forces with Ansel Eckmann, chief pilot of the Alaska-Washington Airways of Seattle, who has been searching the northern water for Robin "Pat" Renahan, Vancouver alman and two companions missing since October 28, when they left here to join the Burke search party.

No word had been received in Victoria to-day in response to the request for permission for Bremerton navy yard planes to join in the search for the Renahan and Burke plane parties, lost on the British Columbia coast, and in the Liard district of northern British Columbia.

PLANE TRIBUTE TO WAR DEAD

London, Nov. 11.—Two thousand feet above the fields of Kent a British passenger plane from Paris sped for Croydon at 11 o'clock this morning. As those on the ground bowed in silence in tribute to the war dead, the pilot throttled his engines and the roar of the great plane was silenced. For two minutes its passengers stood bare headed in their places and Britain had done honor to her dead in the air as well as on land and sea.

R. H. Wilkinson, general manager of the Bradford Tramways, predicts that in ten years there will not be a street car left in England.

RHEUMATISM HAD HER HOBBLING 'ROUND ON CRUTCHES

But both Pain and Crutches went out when T-R-C's came in

If anyone was ever in torment, Mrs. Milton Mark of Windsor, Ontario, was. For 10 years Chronic Rheumatism tortured her body. Five of these years she moved on crutches. One of her arms was completely useless. Then, one day, she read in the newspaper how T-R-C's (Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules) had helped an old man of 80.

"I said to my husband (Mrs. Mark writes), I think I'll try them. If they helped him they should help me." So she did. And writes further: "I'm mighty glad I took them (T-R-C's) for although I had had Rheumatism for 10 or 12 years, within 3 months I showed improvement. After that I threw away the crutches and now have no trouble at all."

Repeatedly T-R-C's have given speedy, safe relief from acute Rheumatic suffering. And, when taken faithfully and correctly, T-R-C's have conquered even the most stubborn Rheumatism. Safe and swift also for Sciatica, Neuritis, Neuralgia and Lumbago. No harmful or habit-forming drugs.

There is no mystery about the action of T-R-C's. They enter the blood stream. Go to the root of the trouble. Help your body throw off the poisons that are making your life miserable. Buy a box. Get back your normal health again. 50¢ and $1 at your dealer's.

T-R-C'S TEMPLETON'S RHEUMATIC CAPSULES*ARMISTICE DAY MESSAGE FROM MR. BENNETT

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—Premier Bennett cabled the following Armistice Day message from London, England: "On this twelfth anniversary of the armistice, I join with my fellow citizens in paying profound and grateful tribute to the memory of those who died for Canada and the Empire. We will not forget them, nor will we forget that to us is handed the trust to maintain inviolate the great principles of justice, freedom and fair dealing for which they gave their lives."

C.P.R. BUYS LONDON SITE FOR NEW HOTEL

Construction to Be Started Some Months Hence, Says President Beatty

Montreal, Nov. 11.—Announcement was made yesterday by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, of the acquisition of a site for the hotel proposed to be erected by the company in London, England. Mr. Beatty's statement was as follows: "After protracted negotiations, the company has succeeded in securing a hotel site in London, facing Berkeley Square and Bruton Street. The block is a substantial one, containing approximately 77,000 square feet in area. Negotiations for its acquisition are just about completed, and when possession is secured, which will not, however, be for some months yet, the work of construction will commence. The hotel when completed will contain a minimum of 600 to 700 rooms."

PEACE SPEECH IS MADE BY MEIGHEN

Washington, Nov. 11.—Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, former Prime Minister of Canada, as chief speaker at the Good-Will Congress of the World Alliance for International Friendship, in unequivocal language yesterday evening expressed his concept of a world imperiled by war.

"Civilization must end war, or war will end civilization," he said.

"War has lost its efficacy. It can only bring defeat and despair for both conqueror and conquered."

"The policies of governments are dominated by fear."

"The one supremely important task before our world today is to bring about an organization against war, and such an organization cannot be brought without the United States. I despair of finding a substitute for armaments—something else that will bring security not only to one, but to all."

Mr. Meighen yesterday called on President Hoover, accompanied by Hume Wrong, charge d'affaires of the Canadian Legation. Later he was a guest of Sir Roland Lindsay at the new British Embassy.

CONSCRIPTION LIMITS ARE SET

Geneva, Nov. 11.—A plan for limiting the period of service of army conscripts was adopted by the League of Nations Preparatory Disarmament Commission yesterday, thus disposing of one of the most difficult articles in the draft convention under consideration. The time limit remains to be fixed by the general conference.

After protracted debate over the merits of establishment of a universal top figure for all contracting parties, and a proposal that each state fix its own maximum, the commission voted to establish a universal maximum and a maximum for each nation.

The article in the preparatory draft reads: "In each contracting state having the conscription system, the total period of service which the annual contingent is compelled to serve, whether for land, sea or air forces, shall not exceed the figures accepted by each contracting party, and in no case shall the figures exceed months." The blank remains to be filled in.

While technically disposing of this article, the commission, however, did not solve the political problems involved. When the General Disarmament Conference meets, the German again will demand a limit be placed on trained reserves—a matter the commission declined to do last week. Also when the question of fixing definitely the maximum periods of service, there will be difficulty in satisfying the defence requirements of each nation.

THREE ARE KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Grangeville, Idaho, Nov. 11.—Three persons were killed and two were hurt so badly their recovery is doubtful as their automobile plunged 150 feet down a grade on White Bird Hill, ten miles south of here, yesterday evening.

Those killed were: Mrs. Dennis Wallace, forty; Mrs. Mary Mardock, seventy-five, mother of Mrs. Wallace, and Evelyn Wallace, two, daughter of Mrs. Wallace.

The victims were part of a caravan, all members of the same family, traveling from Grangeville, Idaho, where they had lived on farms, to Harrison, Idaho, where they expected to purchase farms or find employment.

The car was a 1928 Buick, a four-door sedan, and was driven by Mrs. Wallace. The car was traveling south on the highway when it struck a rock and overturned. The car was completely wrecked and the bodies of the three killed were found in the wreckage.

The bodies of the two injured persons were found in the wreckage. They are being treated at the local hospital.

FRUIT GROWING IN SAANICH AREA

Sidney, Nov. 11.—The monthly meeting of the North Saanich Horticultural Association was held in the Wesley Hall on Thursday night. The president, Lionel Taylor, presiding. After the usual routine of the meeting was over Professor E. Straight, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm, gave an address on "Tree Fruits."

He thought the Saanich Peninsula admirably suited for pears and apples, especially Bartlett. The cannery at Sidney was forced to send to Grangeville for pears as there were not sufficient available in Saanich. Mr. Straight gave a practical demonstration as to how to plant trees, going very thoroughly into the choice of varieties, fertilization and pruning.

Mr. Taylor spoke of the good price given for pears and regretted that the pears had not been obtained from the Okanagan instead of the States, and hoped that next year things would be different. Mr. Taylor also spoke of tiger lilies.

The prizes for the month were awarded for chrysanthemums. First, Mrs. J. T. Harrison; second, Mrs. J. J. White; White-onions, first, J. J. Nunn; second, Mr. Gordie.

Mr. Wells gave a display of sweet potatoes grown in his own garden. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. Straight for his instructive address. He was asked to speak again at Deep Cove on the last Tuesday in November. Professor Boving will be the speaker at the December meeting of the society in the Wesley Hall on the first Thursday of the month.

WILD ELEPHANT IN PARADE OF LORD MAYOR

London, Nov. 11.—An elephant, one of four in the Lord Mayor's parade yesterday, became excited and surged through a dense crowd with all the symptoms of being out of control and a wild stampede followed. Some women and children had bruises dressed at a hospital.

After the incident the parade went on.

In other ways, the show was voted the best for years.

The new Lord Mayor, Sir Phene Neill, is a great believer in the parade. His retinue yesterday contained many depictions of the old-time romantic side of life overseas. Probably next in popularity to the elephants was a covered wagon, such as adorned the northwest of Canada a century ago, accompanied by Indians with tomahawks and everything else a boy has ever heard of.

The crowd cheered itself hoarse as the glittering parade moved through the packed lines of spectators, who disappeared only when the sun came down on the end of a glorious day.

THREE CHILDREN LOSE LIVES

Greenup, Ky., Nov. 11.—Three small children, left alone in their home while their parents worked outside were burned to death when the farm house, Kinley Refett at Old Town, twelve miles southeast of here, yesterday evening. The children, two boys and a girl, were six, four and two years old.

QUESTIONS ARE CLEARED UP BY EMPIRE CHIEFS

Premiers Agree on Validity Act Repeal, Citizenship and Shipping

London, Nov. 11.—Abolition of the Colonial Laws Validity Act complete control of its shipping by each Dominion and recognition of citizenship status by each part of the Empire, as well as general citizenship in the Commonwealth of British nations, were important recommendations made yesterday by the Empire Premiers.

These will receive further consideration at a plenary session of the Imperial Conference.

Last on yesterday's list came the issue of appeals to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London. But there the Premiers made no recommendation whatever. There was no expression of opinion by the conference itself and the status quo will remain.

The new decisions confirm, in all essential particulars, the recommendations of the 1929 conference on the operation of Dominion laws. The Colonial Laws Validity Act of 1865 will be repealed and thus no act passed by a Dominion Parliament will be void on the ground that it is repugnant to a law of Great Britain. But to this recommended appeal there is a condition attached. In Canada the criticism has been made that the recommendation of the commission which studied the operation of Dominion laws went further than this repeal and, by inference, might be interpreted as giving the Dominion Parliament power to amend the British North America Act.

Premier Tasschereau of Quebec, and Premier Ferguson of Ontario held the provinces should have been consulted before the commission made such an implication. Before the Sankey constitutional committee of the Imperial Conference Hon. Maurice Dupre, Solicitor-General of Canada, supported their view.

The Empire Premiers yesterday concurred and ruled the provinces should be consulted.

The repealing bill will not be presented to the British Parliament until resolutions requesting it are passed by the Provincial Legislatures of the Dominion. It is suggested these resolutions should be reported to the United Kingdom Government by July 1, or at the latest, August 1, 1931.

CITIZENSHIP QUESTION

The right of each Dominion to define its own nationals, as has already been done by Canada, is recognized. The Empire Premiers recommend, however, that there should be no alteration in the status of common British citizenship except after consultation and agreement between the different members of the Commonwealth.

NATIONALITY GROWS

The Premiers yesterday favored legislation to provide that, if the national law of a wife causes her to lose her nationality on her marriage with an alien, this loss of nationality shall be conditional on her acquiring her husband's new nationality. Legislation would also provide the naturalization of a husband shall not involve a change in the nationality of his wife except with her consent.

These recommendations are in line with certain provisions of the report of The Hague Conference. But the Empire Premiers are not prepared to recommend that a British woman, on her marriage, should be permitted to retain her British nationality indefinitely.

ENGLAND HAS MURDER MYSTERY

Northampton, Eng., Nov. 11.—From the midnight spectacle of a passenger automobile blazing like a torch on a hillside near here last Thursday there has developed a murder mystery which is giving the shrewdest minds of Scotland Yard one of the knottiest problems in years to solve.

Inside the car when the blaze had died down was found a human body, charred beyond recognition, but believed to be that of a woman.

A search for the car owner led to the street of Alfred Arthur Bouse, aged thirty-five, a commercial traveler living in London, and he has been formally charged with "murder of some persons unknown."

The theory the victim was struck down with some weapon before the fire was started seemed strengthened by discovery of a wooden mallet bearing an apparent trace of human hair.

MAN KILLED IN AUTO COLLISION

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 11.—Two unidentified persons, believed to have been residents of San Diego, were burned to death and a man so badly injured he is expected to die as the result of an automobile collision near Coyote Wells on the road to El Centro late yesterday evening.

The bodies of the two persons burned to death were charred so badly identification was impossible.

The cars collided head-on on a slight grade. They locked and immediately caught fire. A passing automobile helped extricate the man who was alone in the car, but not until he had been burned so badly he is not expected to live.

ARMISTICE DAY

THE ARMISTICE DAY ACT, PASSED BY Parliament at Ottawa in 1921, provided that throughout Canada in every year the Monday in the week in which the eleventh day of November occurred, being the day on which the Great War was ended by an armistice, should be a legal holiday to be observed under the name of Armistice Day. It was provided also that the holiday called Thanksgiving Day, which had been proclaimed annually in either October or November, thereafter always should be observed on Armistice Day.

Legally, therefore, yesterday was both Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day. But to-day is the anniversary of the armistice, and in many quarters it is being observed as such, and will continue to be, especially by those who were at the battlefield and upon whose minds the announcement of the end of the carnage left an impression which nothing can efface. All the statutes ever enacted could not transfer the significance of November 11 to November 10, except in a purely technical and superficial aspect, and instead of trying to do the impossible by fixing Armistice Day for Thanksgiving Day, regardless of the consideration that the latter might be one or more days remote from the actual anniversary of the armistice, it would have been more appropriate if Thanksgiving Day were fixed to fall on the real Armistice Day.

The object of the act passed by Parliament in 1921, of course, was to have Thanksgiving Day permanently fixed in the calendar for a Monday in association with the armistice, and at the same time avoid having two holidays in one week. But it is not difficult to shift Thanksgiving Day, which can be done by proclamation, while it is impossible to change the anniversary of the armistice, whatever may be done with the observance of it.

The proper observance of Armistice Day calls for something more than ceremonial and moving expressions of thanksgiving for the end of the worst catastrophe in human history. It demands the determination of the people of the world that never again shall there be such a terrible means of dealing with international disputes; that only by taking such steps as are necessary to insure peace can they pay adequate tribute to the millions who died and suffered in the war and its aftermath. If, in spite of eloquent orations and impressive rites and solemn silences, we contemplate with indifference the prospect of a similar holocaust, we simply imply that we have nothing really worth while to offer as monuments to those who perished, that their sacrifices have had no lasting uplifting effect upon civilization, that the world is as morally bankrupt to-day as it was when in the full flower of their manhood they gave up their lives.

In Victoria another practical means of commemorating the armistice presents itself in the campaign of the Armistice Period Committee and the Red Cross Society, which will be continued for a short time in an effort to raise the full amount required for those who are in need. This objective is still a long way from realization. The committee has issued a statement appealing for a further response, and the appeal should have a gratifying answer.

PLUCKY, NEVERTHELESS

AT PLAINFIELD, ILLINOIS, THE other day bandits approached a girl bank teller's cage and demanded cash. The girl stepped on a button which sent an alarm to the headquarters of the volunteer town guard. Nine shots were fired in quick succession against the glass of the cage; but rebounded harmlessly because the glass was bullet-proof. The hold-up was a failure and the town guard is on the hunt for the would-be robbers.

"I didn't know how bullet-proof that glass was," the young lady in the teller's cage said after the bandits had bolted without any loot, "but I'm glad my confidence in it was right." It is one thing to be assured that glass has been laboratory-tested and found to be bullet-proof, and quite another thing to remain calm when glass of the same kind is the only protection between you and desperate thugs who are shooting to kill. The Plainfield girl, as well as the glass, obviously is made of the right kind of stuff.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS

SIGNED "NIL DESPERANDUM" IS A letter in the correspondence columns of a Vancouver contemporary which expresses the hope that the provincial government will shelve some other large road proposal until better times and get on with the building of the Ocean Highway along the West Coast as far as Bamfield. The communication describes one as a costly "baby" and the other a practical project which would develop our open spaces and build up our local cities.

The correspondent in question admits there is a division of opinion as to the most desirable and popular location for the Ocean Highway; but the communication also points out that this undertaking has been under discussion for more than thirty years. We then read further:

Many people have remained upon this coast for thirty or forty years, anticipating the materialization of this road. Many families located at Clo-oose eighteen years ago, fully expecting a road.

Frequently at Clo-oose during the fall, winter and spring months, six weeks pass without making connection with a C.P.R. steamer, owing to rough weather. At such times, in order to reach the outside world, these people have to walk twenty-seven miles of trail to Bamfield Wharf.

People living on highways do not have to take after these primitive methods for many years. Bamfield itself is steadily growing, having many re-lined, modest homes, and, given road connection, would rapidly develop. Pachena Bay and beach is one of the most beautiful spots on the Island, practically deserted at present for lack of road connection. From Pachena to Clo-oose there is a succession of beautiful beaches. An ocean highway from Victoria to Bamfield, with ferry from there to Ucluelet, and a road thence to Alberni, would afford the most beautiful circular drive, probably, in the world, attracting thousands of tourists, in addition to which, numbers of homes and settlers would be located along the whole route.

The letter concludes with the very true statement that "roads, and roads only," will make it possible to develop the many natural attractions with which Vancouver Island has been so plentifully endowed. Until this is recognized in practical fashion, population never will appreciably increase, and the expansion of industry and the tourist business will be similarly slow.

A CURIOUS VIEW

WE ARE TOLD BY A CONTEMPORARY that under the late Liberal government at Ottawa "the conception obtained" that the St. Lawrence waterway development should be undertaken jointly by the United States and Canada, and that joint control should be exercised. "Under the present government," the comment proceeds, "no statement of policy has been made, but there is a belief that the developments should be devised for Canadian purposes, paid for with Canadian moneys and that the added traffic facilities should be completely under Canadian control."

The newspaper we have quoted is a staunch supporter of the Bennett government. But its views are strangely at variance with those of the Prime Minister in this regard. When he was inquiring of the government at the last session under the King regime how negotiations were progressing with the United States, Mr. Bennett laid particular emphasis upon the fact that the St. Lawrence is an international stream and that the proposed development could be undertaken only by joint action on the part of the two countries. Everybody ought to know this. It is not a political question at all. It is a project upon which a great deal of Canada's future expansion and prosperity so very largely depend. Why there should be one or two isolated voices trying to make out that Mr. Mackenzie King was up to some sinister business, in his government's negotiations with the United States in respect of this matter, is difficult to understand. And when Mr. Bennett returns from the Imperial Conference we may expect further early exchange of views between Ottawa and Washington.

An important point often overlooked by some who do not appear to have given this subject much consideration is that if Canada were to proceed with the undertaking on her own account—and she would have to consult her neighbor in respect of any change in that part of the channel which runs through international water—she would be footing bills for improvements which would benefit a much greater volume of American shipping than Canadian shipping. United States vessels still would use the waterway, exercising treaty rights, just as Canadian vessels use the Panama Canal. The Canadian Parliament, of course, will naturally see to it that Canadian interests in every particular are adequately safeguarded. Incidentally, our contemporary forgets that joint control of boundary water is an old story, for this condition has existed under the Joint International Commission for over twenty years.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BALLOTS NOT BULLETS

The Toronto Star

Canadians may talk about the volatile Latin temperament and flatter themselves they are rather superior people, too phlegmatic and too just to relieve their feelings at the expense of an innocent government. But only this year, because the world prices of cereals were down and they had speculated recklessly in the stock market, they turned out a National Government that had been both honest and efficient. The principal difference between the South Americans and the Canadian people in that respect is that in this country we used ballots instead of bullets.

WHEAT BUYING BY QUOTA

The Saskatchewan Star-Phoenix

(A scheme has been proposed in Britain to buy 25 per cent of its wheat supply from British farmers, 66 per cent from the Dominions and Colonies and 9 per cent from foreign countries.) The adoption of such a plan by the Old Country will almost certainly be conditional on the Dominions doing something for British industry. Shutting out Argentine wheat from the British market would have a serious effect on British exports to the South American Republic, which is now almost a British colony in an economic sense. If Britain shuts out Argentine wheat and assures Canada of a market for its harvest, Canada will have to offer some compensation to British manufacturers. Otherwise the advantage of the quota import plan to the public of the United Kingdom is difficult to perceive, if not invisible.

Seattle, Nov. 11.—The international fisheries commission adjourned on Friday afternoon after two days of the most friendly and satisfactory conference. Several arrangements were made for the future.

Loose Ends

A very dull column about Mr. Shaw and Mr. Wells—and historical matters—and stupid things like that.

By H. B. W.

MR. BERNARD SHAW and Mr. H. G. Wells have been indulging lately in a little useful foolishness. They have been compiling lists of the greatest men and the greatest events in history, a dangerous but fascinating habit. It is useful, however, because it has produced a world-wide chorus of objections and, probably made a few people think who otherwise wouldn't. Anyway, it is the readers of this column did a little thinking for themselves, after getting so much free thought here, and I feel about a thousand words or so of dull stuff coming on, interesting only to those of higher intellect, if any. Perhaps, therefore, you had better turn to Miss Dix and the Gumps before it is too late.

MR. SHAW, who always goes the whole hog, confines his selection of great men to eight, whom he boldly proclaims to be the "builders of the universe." These are: Aristotle, Pythagoras, Copernicus, Ptolemy, Galileo, Newton, Kepler and Einstein. Mr. Wells, for his part, enumerates the fifteen greatest dates in history as follows: The passing of Alexander, 323 B.C.; final destruction of Carthage, 146 B.C.; the passing of Caesar, 44 B.C.; Constantine's baptism, 337 A.D.; Odoacer becomes King of Italy, 476; the passing of Mohammed, 632; Charlemagne crowned Emperor in Rome, 800; Urban II summons the First Crusade, 1095; the passing of Frederick II, 1250; John Huss burned at the Council of Constance, 1415; Columbus's voyage to America, 1492; the passing of Emperor Charles V, 1558; the treaty of Westphalia, 1648; the Declaration of Independence, 1776; the two Russian revolutions, 1917.

IF YOU are of a reflective turn of mind and know anything about history, here, surely is food for thought. You will note in the first place how completely and rather superbly Mr. Shaw ignores all Mr. Wells' ideas, and how perfectly Mr. Wells refuses to pay the least attention to Mr. Shaw's. Mr. Shaw bases his list entirely on the assumption that science has been the greatest force in the world. Every one of his builders of the universe is a scientist, and only one of them, Aristotle, can be considered a greater writer. Mr. Wells, on the other hand, ignores science altogether in selecting those dates which he considers the most vital in our history. No mention is made of the invention of the steam engine, for instance, though it has done more to alter the face of the earth and benefit its inhabitants than anything which preceded it.

MR. WELLS, I suppose (though he gives no explanation) has picked the death of Alexander as the end of Greek supremacy, which is curious, for one would have thought that the battle of Marathon, which made this civilization possible, or the birth of Socrates, who was its greatest product, would have been more significant. However, we don't need to be too particular about such details. Next in the list comes the destruction of Carthage, which is included, I presume, because it ended forever the threat of a Semetic civilization in Europe. Then the assassination of Caesar, which I don't quite understand. I suppose in a rough way it is intended to indicate the destruction of the good old Roman Republic and the beginning of the Empire under his nephew, Augustus. After that Mr. Wells names Constantine's baptism into Christianity, which is still more curious. Apparently it is intended to signify the sweep of Christianity across Europe, and its conquest of Roman civilization, but the founding of this religion and the birth of its founder are neglected altogether.

ODACER'S CORONATION as King of Italy I take to signify the final fall of the Roman civilization before the barbarians. It is not clear, however, why the passing of Mohammed is mentioned for his helira and the beginning of Mohammedanism seems more important. The Battle at Tours, which ended the Mohammedan thrust at Europe is worth while, too. The crowning of Charlemagne as Emperor in Rome is mentioned doubtless as the beginning of the Holy Roman Empire and the supremacy of the Papacy. The summoning of the First Crusade, of course, marked beginning of a movement which was, perhaps, the foundation of the Renaissance. Just what the passing of Frederick II has to do with the story I don't see, but the burning of John Huss is evidently mentioned as a symbol of a century of religious upheaval, culminating in the Reformation. We know also what Columbus's voyage did to the fair and unsullied land of America.

THE PASSING OF Charles V seems to have a feeble claim to inclusion in the list, even if it did mark the break up of a great empire. The cutting off of Charles' head would have been a better choice, but with it the entire French Revolution is skipped altogether, an amazing arrangement. We come then to the Treaty of Westphalia which ended the Thirty Years' War and just about knocked the Holy Roman Empire into a cocked hat, followed by the Declaration of Independence which started the United States, and finally the Russian revolution in 1917. The Great War and the Treaty of Versailles which changed the whole face of civilization, do not even get honorable mention. And the whole history of the Orient, including Buddhism, is ignored as if half the world didn't exist.

ALL THIS, I agree, is very dull. But I have no choice, for I am bound to exhibit my feeble knowledge of history. But the point I was trying to make away back at the beginning was that Mr. Shaw and Mr. Wells, both of them writers and artists, have refused to admit writing and making up as sound to-day as they were twenty centuries ago. And as for Mr. Wells, his fifteen dates were merely manifestations of ideas let loose upon the world by men whom Mr. Wells ignores in a most lordly fashion. But happily Mr. Wells redeems himself by denouncing his own philosophy and declaring that dates don't mean anything. That, of course, is quite true, and because dates are impressed on the young in such quantities, they seldom have any real idea of history when they leave school, that is, unless they take to reading this column, poor things.

THIS IS a strange piece of humility on the part of two writers, and undermines the value of their entire proposition. Who can say, for example, that Galileo's exploration of the stars has had a more profound effect on human life than Plato's Republic? A good case, indeed, could be set up to prove the contrary. A good case could also be made out to prove that the Bible had influenced humanity more than the discovery of the law of gravity. For if one thing is obvious throughout the history of human experience, it is that the ideas of men like Mr. Shaw's nominees are being constantly scrapped and replaced with something new, some development of the atom of the electron and the proton; while the ideas of men like Plato and Jesus are still being used as a basis for our civilization to-day. Mr. Wells' fifteen dates were merely manifestations of ideas let loose upon the world by men whom Mr. Wells ignores in a most lordly fashion. But happily Mr. Wells redeems himself by denouncing his own philosophy and declaring that dates don't mean anything. That, of course, is quite true, and because dates are impressed on the young in such quantities, they seldom have any real idea of history when they leave school, that is, unless they take to reading this column, poor things.

NOBODY RESPONSIBLE?

To the Editor:—Since leaves began to fall heavily the east side of Government St., from just between Elliott St. to Belleville St., has been "chickadee covered," and with the damp fog and the rain the sidewalk has been in a disgraceful and even dangerous condition, the leaves holding much water and being very slippery. Yet I have seen, during the same period, men with carts clearing away the leaves in several streets in James Bay, and it certainly seems strange that this should have been done and Government St. with its heavy traffic neglected.

Also I noticed one day a black cat lying dead in the gutter, in the same section of road, and happening to mention this to a lady whose business takes her into the city, she told me that she had seen the poor animal lying there for three days.

SAANICH COUNCIL AND UNEMPLOYMENT

To the Editor:—Reading the account of the last meeting of the Saanich Council, as reported in your columns, one is somewhat amazed at the attitude of Councillor Eden towards the unemployed. Mr. Eden thinks it preposterous that Saanich working men, working on relief work, should ride to the job in automobiles. Mr. Eden must be living in an atmosphere of the Middle Ages, when the working classes were not supposed to be entitled to any of the good things of life. I would like to point out to Mr. Eden that those of us who own cars obtained them at a time when our fortunes were a little better than they are just now, that we worked for them the same as we did for our homes, our radios, pianos, or any other luxuries that we may happen to possess. According to Mr. Eden's views were not justified in applying for relief work until we have sacrificed everything? And are practically on the verge of starvation. Now, I maintain that the class of people who have, through probably half a lifetime, by thrift and industry, managed to make a little provision for the future are the backbone of any community, and are entitled to as much assistance at this time as can possibly be given them, consistently with a square deal to the taxpayers. If this is done now, the great majority of these people will, as soon as conditions return to something like normal, be able to paddle their own canoe once again. On the other hand if they are refused assistance during this period of depression, and have to sacrifice their homes, etc., many of them will never recover, and in a few more years, their earning power gone, may become a permanent charge on the municipality. Believe that every unemployed person that wants to work should be given the opportunity, because I don't think that anyone would go after the municipality demanding relief work unless they really need the money.

In this I also include single men, for although the single man may not have anyone dependent on him, it must not be forgotten that he, himself, must eat. It was glad to notice that Councillor Crowhurst put in a word for the single man. Another point that should not be lost sight of is the fact that the public works now being carried out in Saanich are necessary improvements that would have to be done, sooner or later, and paid for by Saanich taxpayers, therefore the council, instead of taking the stand that they are spending money solely for the relief of unemployment, ought to be tickled to death that they have the opportunity to do this work at this time when they are getting government assistance in paying for it. In conclusion I would ask the working men of Saanich to remember Councillor Eden's attitude when the next election comes round.

and also to bear in mind that he was largely responsible for killing the sidewalk scheme, sponsored by Ex-Reeve Crouch, which would not only have provided considerable work, but would have eliminated our old wooden sidewalks, which are in many cases so dilapidated as to be a menace to the lives and limbs of pedestrians.

"CARRY ON!"

To the Editor:—Those of us who were actively interested in the Red Cross during the war will always remember with pride and pleasure the prompt and generous response to our appeals in those days. The shadow and grim uncertainty of those years no longer hangs over us, but the need which made those appeals so very necessary then is still present and still urgent, and the sad evidence of that urgency of destruction is still before us in the persons of those men who were broken in body and health on the battle-front. "Carry on!" has assumed a permanent place in our national phraseology, and the Armistice Period Committee (in which is embodied the Red Cross Society and the Junior Red Cross) still earnestly "carries on" the work of caring for those whose war disabilities have left them unable to care for themselves. It cares for them and for their dependents in many ways. It gives temporary relief in cases of distress, defrays the cost of medical examinations and treatments, and supplies countless little comforts to alleviate the weakness and pain of those in hospital. It cares for hundreds of veterans, in hospitals and homes and institutions all over the province—Tranquille T.B. Sanitarium.

VETERANS ENJOY FINE CONCERT

Britannia Post President Recalls Comradeship of War Days

An Armistice smoking concert was held with great success by the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. Saturday night with many talented artists contributing to a well planned programme. T. Dempster, president, was in the chair, and briefly addressed the meeting.

The period of Armistice, he said, brought back more vividly than any other event of the year, recollections of the years when they were comrades in arms. It was a fact beyond dispute that during those strenuous times a comradeship was born among veterans that nothing could destroy. Friendships had been created that had been perpetuated in civilian life. The Britannia post and similar organizations had helped to cement that comradeship, but not only that it had provided the means of paying fitting tribute to those who rested beneath the poppies on the fields of Flanders. One way they could and had proved their sincerity was by doing their best to help the relatives of those who had died on the battlefields and he was sure all would admit that the Britannia post with the cordial support of every member had worked effectively in this direction. Another way by assisting those whose war disabilities had handicapped them for the struggle of civilian life and in this respect, he claimed, the Britannia post could show commendable results.

SARGON MEANT EVERYTHING TO HER, SHE SAYS

Was First Medicine to Bring Her Lasting Relief After Twenty Years Suffering

"It's too bad that such a wonderful medicine as this new Sargon couldn't have been given to mankind sooner," declared Mrs. Georgiana Smith recently, who lives at 1635 5th Ave., W., Vancouver.

MRS. GEORGINA SMITH

"It has certainly meant everything to me. I feel as though I am on top for twenty years with a flatulence and heaviness of the stomach, that came on even after the lightest meal. Along with this was a gastric condition that kept me terribly bloated and uncomfortable, and I'd feel so weak at times I could hardly hold my head up. Like so many women in middle life, I had headache and backache continually; my limbs often felt numb and cold-like from poor circulation; there'd be a 'puffiness' under my eyes, and my whole body ached all over, like rheumatism."

"I know I took more aspirin than was good for me, as well as trying various medicines and massage treatments, but the first time I got any real, lasting relief was when I started Sargon. I'll admit I was skeptical at first, but after two bottles, every trouble I had disappeared and I feel stronger and in better health now than I've been in years."

"I also used the Sargon Pills and there's no question about them keeping the system regulated more comfortably and naturally than any laxative I've ever known. My husband has started the treatment now, and it's helping him just like it did me. We both recommend Sargon every chance we get."

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from all Owl Drug Stores; in New Westminster from the Bews Drug Company; in Esquimalt from Pulmer's Drug Store; in Oak Bay from Charles Hudson. (Adv.)

STIRBLING AND DE KUH MEET TO-DAY

Georgian and Giant Italian Heavyweight Battle at Atlanta Over Ten Rounds

De Kuh Will Have Big Weight Advantage; Dempsey Officials as Referee

Atlanta, Nov. 11. — William Lawrence Stribling, prize fighter of Macon, Ga., was confident of adding Arthur De Kuh, New York Italian, to-day to a knockout list which bears the names of Otto von Forst, Phil Scott and K. O. Christman.

Stribling and De Kuh both said match with De Kuh in the Atlanta baseball park marked his first ring appearance in his native southland since he began his career in the sport by flooring Von Forst. Stribling and De Kuh both said they were in good trim and De Kuh contemplated having a big weight advantage on Stribling. De Kuh planned to weigh in at 222 with Stribling tipping the beam at a few pounds over the 190 mark. Jack Dempsey was selected to referee the bout.

New Westminster And St. Saviour's Battle to a Draw

Vancouver, Nov. 11.—Playing under the worst soccer conditions possible, and players finding it almost impossible to get a foothold, Westminster Royals and St. Saviour's put up one of the hardest games of the season in a Pacific Coast League game at Connaught Park yesterday afternoon. The result being a draw of three goals each.

With the Royals short of Coulter, their star scoring forward, and Anderson, their crack fullback, they were severely handicapped. Their place was filled by Hammond, formerly of St. Saviour's, and Tom Taylor, but neither of them filled the bill adequately.

St. Saviour's were good for a win and it was only spectacular work of Sanford, in goal for the Royals, which held them off when the backs faltered, which they did repeatedly. Sanford was in his best form and saved some tallies by his clever goal-kicking.

That the Saints did not win was due to Lang, who missed a penalty, but he made up for this error later by scoring the tying goal, two minutes from time.

THE TROUBLE WITH APPEARANCES - IT'S OFTEN TOUGH TO KEEP THEM UP...

LOLA HOKUM

I WILL SERVE THE PEOPLE TO THE BEST OF MY ABILITY

LEAVILLE, N.C.

Boston Bruins Will Meet New York in Third Game on Programme; Remaining Clubs Get Under Way Later in the Week; Many Changes in Personnel of Clubs; "Delayed Penalty" Major Alteration in Rules; Montreal Maroons Will Throw Brilliant Array of Talent Into Race.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Three games to-night mark the opening of the 1930-31 season of the National Hockey League and inaugurates what is expected to be one of the most successful years the ice game ever has had.

A newcomer to the league, the Philadelphia Quakers, makes its first appearance to-night. Philadelphia, which is merely the old Pittsburgh team in a new location, starts the season at home against the New York Rangers. In the other games Boston Bruins meet New York Americans and Ottawa Senators.

Many changes will be seen in the league, but most of them are confined to the personnel of the teams. Philadelphia is the only new club, but the Detroit team has changed its name to the Falcons for the sake of pronunciation. The principal alteration in the rules for the coming season is the introduction of the "delayed penalty" rather complicated procedure, which ends the old last-ditch stands where two or three men of one team attempted to hold off five rivals. Teams will have at least four men on the ice all the time this season. Penalties in general have been tightened up. A new one is a ten-minute trip to the box for any player who inflicts a head injury, whether it is intentional or otherwise.

Montreal, Que., Nov. 11.—Having signed intact one of the finest amateur hockey teams that Canada has produced in years, the Montreal Maroons of the National Hockey League are prepared to throw a brilliant array of talent against other teams in the league during the season. A team that was already strong, having headed the Canadian section last year only to lose to Boston Bruins in the first play-off game, has been strengthened by the addition of Dave Kerr, goalie; Johnny Gallagher, defence; Paul Maynes and Huggins, centres, and Desse and Earl Roche, wingers of last year's Allan Cup winners, the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association.

Maroons have also secured Lionel Conacher, defence player of vast experience and almost as great a leader as last year is gone. Clint Benedict, in goal, has left the league which he helped make great and will be replaced by Windsor of the International League. Dune Munro, is now manager instead of playing defence. George Boucher, who broke a leg last spring, will act as coach and Red Dutton is with the New York Americans. However, the club's present defensive strength looks powerful with Kerr and Conacher. Gallagher and McVicar, formerly for the defence of Providence, also available for the job as Munro. The Maroons may get into the league occasionally, and Bill Phillips, who has been a forward but is breaking into the rear-guard work.

On the point of new teams look as strong as the Maroons. Three goals for ward lines will be available. First is the rugged, hard-hitting combination of Stewart, St. Saviour's, and Hooley Smith, all veterans and "poison" around the goal. The newcomer, Huggins, flanked by Dave Trotter and Jimmy Ward, will act as the second line and the third will be Paul Maynes and the Roche brothers.

Calgary, Nov. 11.—Saskatoon Hilltops, champions of Saskatchewan, who lost out to Native Sons, titleholders of Manitoba, in the Western Canadian winter rugby final at the Manitoba capital last Saturday, have made a protest against players Krupp and McCulloch of the Native Sons are over age.

In a wire to Walter Ross, president of the Western Canada Rugby Union, the Hilltops declare that Krupp is ineligible and that they will guarantee the Winnipeg team $500 for a replay game at Saskatoon.

Arnold Dowd of Winnipeg, secretary of the W.C.R.U., also wired President Ross that the Hilltops had lodged a protest against Krupp and McCulloch. President Ross stated that he would make no official decision until Hilltops produced evidence to show that these players were ineligible for junior rugby.

English Cricketers Take Opening Match Of South Africa Tour

Capetown, South Africa, Nov. 11.—The English cricket team won the first match of their South African tour to-day when they beat the West Province by an innings and 177 runs. Fine scores were made by the visitors by R. E. S. Wyatt, 138, and Wally Hammond, 100. Pat Hendren scored 24, not out, for England. The English bowlers were all but unplayable at times in the Western Province's second innings, Maurice Leyland taking three wickets for only four runs, while I. A. B. Pebley captured four wickets for 15 runs. Scores were: Western Province 113 and 122, England 412 for seven wickets.

BADMINTON MATCH WON BY Y.M.C.A.

Defeat North Saanich Team By Eleven Matches to Five in Third Division Clash

Y.M.C.A.'s first team in the Third Division of the Lower Island Badminton League journeyed to Deep Cove yesterday evening and defeated the North Saanich eleven matches to five. Y.M.C.A. presented a well-balanced team and should go a long way in quest of the championship. North Saanich, who won the championship last year, have moved their star aggregation into the higher second class and their third division team is made up of last year's second team.

Three victories in the four women's doubles and an even break in the men's doubles put the "Y" out in front with a good margin, and they coasted home by winning six of the eight matches in the mixed doubles.

Scores follow with the Y.M.C.A. players being named first:

Witter and Kidd lost to Godwin and Sheppard, 15-4.
Legh and Connorton beat Layard and Graham, 15-9.

"REPS" WIN CUP RUGBY

Defeat University of British Columbia 13 to 8 in First McKechnie Cup Match

Pinkham Scores Two Tries For Varsity; Niblo Is Tower of Strength to "Reps"

Vancouver, Nov. 11.—With Len Leroy at the helm, the Vancouver "rep" team broke the ice in the initial game of the McKechnie Cup rugby series when they downed Varsity 13 to 8 in one of the best games of the season at Brockton Point on the holiday, taking into consideration the miserable playing conditions.

Leroy himself left the game half way through the second half not to return, when his right knee gave out. Varsity started the game with fourteen men, but after ten minutes Bobby Gaul completed the side, playing with a fractured thumb.

The half-time count was 13 to 3, representing two tries by E. C. Pinkham, and one try each by Murray of Varsity and Niblo. Leroy and Niblo converted. The only score of the second half came just before the final whistle when Glen Ledingham went over and Murray converted.

The Reps swung into action at the very beginning of the game when Pinkham went over for a touch after a smooth three-quarter run which was converted by Leroy. U.B.C. got going on a free kick for feet up in the scrum and pressed the pressure with another of their frequent forward charges.

Leroy, however, was hauled down by the fast-moving Phil Barratt when a touch seemed imminent.

CONTINUE PRESSURE
The gold and blue continued the pressure and managed to dribble the ball into touch, which was made a safety by Vancouver. From a free kick, for an offence in the scrum, Vancouver forced the Collegians to make a safety.

The Reps then started their fast forward line and reached the Varsity five-yard line only to be foiled when the students touched down. Phil Barratt again smeared a passing attack that seemed good for points and, with the college scrum in good working order, pushed the ball into some loose play where Murray scooped it up and sprinted sixty yards to score for Vancouver on the most sensational move of the game.

COLLEGIANS WEAKEN
The Collegiate scrum began to weaken and Leroy, snatching up the ball, passed to Niblo, who went over for the three points. Leroy added the major points to make the score 10 to 3. Cleveland kicked to the opposition thirty-yard line, where Mercer lost a chance to go over by holding too long.

The Reps were right back and Pinkham, following a long dribble along the sideline, managed to go over. Niblo failed to convert. The half-time score was 13 to 3.

In the second half of the battle the Point Grey players held the Reps scoreless while they gained five points. Phil Barratt started off by kicking and then tackling the receiver. The game saw all over the field with first one team and then the other getting the ball over, but the Reps touched down. Twice the students lost chances to score when Ellis held too long.

NIBLO PLAYS WELL
Wilson, of the city team, sneaked his way through all the tacklers, but was overhauled on the thirty-yard line by the burly Ledingham. The All-Stars then had three scrums, but failed to go over. The game again wandered over the field with each side threatening to score. Gaul, of the Collegians, started a tricky forward run, but was brought down. Niblo, who played a stellar game, almost increased the Reps' lead, but was halted.

Wilson, of the Vancouver aggregation, was breaking through all opposition but could not get past the fullback. Gaul came into the line of sight once more by tackling the receiver of the ball after a tremendous dash down the field. Varsity after this kept the field, but the Reps touched down. Reps, penning in their own two-bit area and finally managed to gain points when Ledingham picked the ball out of a dribbling play. The conversion was added as the game closed.

The teams were:
Vancouver — Patterson, Pinkham, Mercer, C. Cleveland, Henderson, Gaul, Ellis, B. Barratt, Munro, Ledingham, Forester, Morton, Mitchell, Murray and Mason.

Varsity — H. Cleveland, P. Barratt, Mercer, C. Cleveland, Henderson, Gaul, Ellis, B. Barratt, Munro, Ledingham, Forester, Morton, Mitchell, Murray and Mason.

Only Seven Clubs Will Compete In Minor Hockey Loop

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 11.—The American Hockey League will be a seven-team circuit instead of an eight-team affair, it was announced here yesterday evening, with the New York membership being moved to Minneapolis.

Difficulties in getting a financial backer and inability of the New York entry to find a suitable rink brought about a change in the make-up of the American League, William F. Grant of Kansas City, president and secretary, said.

Nip Dwan, formerly of the New York Americans of the National League, will be coach and manager. Fourteen games will be played by each club, seven-team circuit instead of an eight-team affair, it was announced here yesterday evening, with the New York membership being moved to Minneapolis.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

TWO YEARS ago last June a gangling, ebony-skinned kid arrived in New York from Cuba. He was a boxer, his manager said. He wore the strange don't plume of Kid Chocolate, just because he resembled a bar of chocolate more than anything else. Nobody would believe that Eligio Sardinia, which is the fighter's real name, was a fighter. His style had no appeal to those who saw him go through his training paces at St. Nicholas gymnasium. His manager could not convince any matchmaker that he could fight.

Finally out of goodness of some-body's heart, Kid Chocolate got a chance to go to Mitchell Field, on Long Island, and make his American debut. He knocked out Eddie Enos in two rounds and then everybody began taking some notice. Chocolate got $40 for that shot and all he wanted was a few more like it and he was going back home to his native Cuba, United States, he thought, was too cold for him.

But time has brought a great change. It's just a little more than two years ago. That $40 stake has grown into hundreds of thousands of dollars for Kid Chocolate, and the boxing game in turn has been benefited by the presence of such a little fighting demon.

To-day Kid Chocolate rates the biggest money maker the featherweight class ever knew, dating even from the days of 1850 when the fashionable To-day Chocolate is to be regarded as one of the wealthiest young men who found his way to fortune with his fists. His fortune is six figures and every cent of it is intact.

Until two years after his introduction to the boxing fans of New York, he pulled down $45,000, that piece of money coming to him for his battle with Al Singer in the Yankee Stadium a year ago. A few weeks ago he yanked down $40,000 more for his bout with Kid Berg. Other important money was grabbed off by him in intermediate fights until his total earnings in the ring are more than $250,000 to date.

Chocolate was wise. With the money he received for his fights in America he bought a house in the fashionable Mariano section of the Cuban capital and built fine houses. To-day he owns eight such homes all rented at an average of $150 a month, and there is more land on which more houses will rise as he goes along with his fists in United States rings.

Only on one occasion has Chocolate strayed from the straight and narrow. It was just about the time he was to fight Pinky Silverberg. He didn't train. He was kidding around a bit. He was out of shape and didn't show his best form. Gutierrez called him to account for the boy broke down crying and promising never to do it again. He has kept his word. His money has gone home.

That is the reason Chocolate is one of the richest boxers in the ring to-day and why he appears destined to cash in big time like a $1,000,000. An obedient kid a "lot of keep." Gutierrez's word is law with him. He is just told to go to fight and he starts to get ready. He never asks how much he is going to get.

His last big shot in New York was when he got $40,000 for the Berg fight. It failed to turn his head. It wasn't to be his price. A smart kid. He knew there were a lot of purses dangling all along the fifth highway. He intended to retire when he left New York after the Berg fight because he had been wronged in having the decision given against him. He was going to quit but was prevailed upon to return.

When he quits, which may be in a couple of years, he will retire probably as the richest little man that ever found fortune in the ring. And when he retires he will be missed, for he has been an inspiration to a lot of boys and a model which they might copy. A boy who didn't let fortune change him.

Gabriel Bagdasarian, Armenian welterweight boxer who fights under the non-de quere name Gabby Bagdad, appeared in twenty-eight contests during his first fourteen months in America.

Marion Barber, Canadian, has spent about $500,000 during the last three years in his attempts to recapture for England the Harmsworth Trophy, emblematic of speedboat supremacy.

Joe Wolcott, the Barbados demon of bryson days, is now managing Earl Smith, a Panama welterweight boxer.

Please buy a pencil, Miss

"OH BOTHER, there's that tiresome old woman again. Just because I sympathized with her once—"

Then like an arrow came a strange thought.

The office girl's gaze went past the shabby dress, the hopeless coat, and rested on the seamed face with the wistful eyes from which fear looked out—the fear that dwells with the aged poor.

The girl knew her story. Once young of course, and thoughtless, happy with a husband and a home. Then came hard times. Luckless speculations swept away what little they had. The husband died at the wrong time, and left her unprovided for. The widow drifted here and there... finally to this... selling pencils to people who didn't want them.

So, to the office girl came these drumming questions that would not down—"could this happen to me? Could it? Old, helpless forlorn... no money... unwanted. What can I do to make sure I will never come to this?"

APPEALING FOR WINTER GUESTS

Bureau Continues Efforts For All Year Round Tourist Trade

Representative Leaves to Supplement Prairie Campaign

An unusually large number of prairie and California cars already in Victoria and an effective bid for tourist business from the prairies promise travel trade of satisfactory proportions for the city this winter.

Advertising in prairie newspapers has been carried for some time by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau and this will be supplemented by radio appeals and talks by Oliver Hollingsworth, representative of the Bureau who left this morning for the prairies.

On a mission to build up winter business Mr. Hollingsworth will visit Edmonton, North Battleford, Prince Albert, Saskatoon, Winnipeg, Brandon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and Calgary. He will interview newspaper and railroad officials, boards of trade and service clubs, several of which have invited him to speak. He will also give frequent radio talks. With him Mr. Hollingsworth will carry a dignified message from Mayor Anson to cordially inviting prairie people to spend the winter in Victoria.

RADIO TALKS

The bureau has also arranged for the radio to be used for a daily appeal to prairie people to spend the winter here. Through station CKCL, owned and operated by the Alberta Pacific Grain Company, daily talks on Victoria are being given from Red Deer, Calgary and Edmonton. The talks will precede the wheat report at noon each day and the news bulletins in the evenings. Those listening in are invited to write the bureau for literature.

ESSAY CONTEST ON AIRPORT

Women's Aeronautic Association Offers Prizes to Children; Closes Dec. 1

The Women's Aeronautic Association has decided to hold an essay contest for a 500-word essay for all boys and girls of Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, between ages of twelve and sixteen, on the subject: "Why Should Victoria Have an Airport?"

The contest will close December 1. The names of the judges will be announced later. There will be a first and a second prize, a model airplane construction set and a flight over the city. The co-operation of the principals and teachers of the schools is being sought by the association.

Miss Mary Eve will inaugurate the association's radio programme with a talk over CPCT on Wednesday evening, November 12, between 7.30 and 8 o'clock.

BRILLIANT GIRL IN FINE FEAT

Oxford Graduate Will Become Administrator in Whitehall; Beats Men

London, Nov. 8.—Miss Elsie M. Tostevin, Oxford graduate, competing on level terms with men at examinations for high positions in Whitehall has accomplished a feat without parallel in the Civil Service. First she won second place, against 170 university men, at the examinations for inspectors of taxes. She then entered for Class 1 of the administrative group, and was twenty-sixth, but only twenty-two vacancies were offered.

The list is certain to be extended, however, if only because several of the successful candidates entered for both Class 1 and the Indian Civil Service. Miss Tostevin therefore will be declared successful at both examinations and will eventually become an administrator at Whitehall.

At the oral test of personality or character, for inspectors of income tax, she was awarded 240 marks out of a maximum of 300. The first man in the list received only 220. This test of personal qualities included tact, intelligence, alertness and general outlook, which a written examination cannot supply.

MILLION POUNDS OF B.C. HONEY

Value of Crop This Year Set at $228,675

The value of British Columbia's honey crop for this year is estimated at $228,675, representing a yield of 1,143,375 lbs. according to officials of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. The annual output of honey is increasing, $5,000 worth being produced this year from 20,737 hives which, with their equipment, have a capital value approximating $518,524.

Production by districts for the year is estimated as follows: Vancouver Island, Gulf Islands and Howe Sound, 104,175 lbs. of honey, 660 apiaries; Greater Vancouver, $9,010 lbs., 264 apiaries; Lower Fraser Valley, 249,800 lbs., 653 apiaries; Upper Fraser Valley and Chilwack, 212,205 lbs., 305 apiaries; Okanagan, Shuswap and Thompson Valleys, 427,480 lbs., 503 apiaries; Kootenays, 134,005 pounds, 214 apiaries; Central British Columbia, 22,050 lbs., 27 apiaries. Total 1,143,375 lbs. from 2,843 apiaries maintaining 20,737 hives, with an average yield of fifty-five lbs. of honey per hive.

It is pointed out that all beekeepers must, by law, register their hives, and that the apiaries are situated, by falling to do so they are subject to a fine not exceeding $50.

Will of Minister Killed in the R-101 Disaster Is Filed

Canadian Press

London, Nov. 11.—Lord Thomson, Air Minister, killed in the crash of the dirigible R-101, recognized the possibility he might never return from the voyage to India, which ended in the tragedy near Beauvais, France, October 5.

In his will, just filed here, he left all he owned to his brother, Colonel Roger Gordon Thomson. "In the event of my death during the flight of the R-101 to India and return," the document, hastily scribbled on a single sheet of paper, was dated October 3, less than forty-eight hours before the dirigible crashed. The estate is estimated at about £1,737.

Major David Thomson, another brother, died last week at an advanced age. His death was attributed to grief over the loss of his brother in the R-101 disaster.

GASOLINE TAX IS NOT LIKED

Independents Protest Dumping Duty, Claiming It Is Unfair

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—Protesting against the application of the dumping duty to the Pennsylvania gasoline which they import, Wade Hampton and Stearns, independent distributors, representing 411 independent distributors throughout Canada, were here interviewing Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of National Revenue. What they were particularly interested in so far as in view with the Minister of Labor was concerned, was the claim that if the dumping duty continues a lot of people in Toronto, Montreal and other cities where these stations operate, will be out of jobs.

PAY GOOD PRICE

The independents claim that the gasoline they sell is paid for at a price which is in no instance less and in some higher than the market value in Pennsylvania and that consequently it is not liable to the dumping clause. They claim to have such a ruling from the Commissioner of Customs. While the delegation was advised to come back and see the minister, Hon. E. B. Ryckman, when he returns, they were not discouraged. The other side of the story is a claim that this party's gasoline is only a by-product of a crude lubricating oil and that in consequence it can be and has been dumped into Canada in unfair competition with Canadian refineries. Senator Robertson did not think that labor would be much affected by the operation of the Dumping Act. "As the Canadian companies dropped the price to the consumers," he said, "I do not see much to worry about from the point of general public interest, though I can see how these independents are squeezed between the dumping duty and the reduction in price by their competitors. The point is that our advice is that the gasoline affected by the dumping duty is simply a by-product and not the real thing."

Complaints Against School Inspection Heard By Society

A number of complaints have been lodged with the local anti-vivisection Society regarding medical inspection of school children. Interference with their education and the teaching given in certain school text books, it was reported by G. B. Killo, president of a recent board meeting. These matters will be referred to the Minister of Education. Signatures to the petition for abolition of vivisection in Canada continue to increase steadily, much public interest being centred on all phases of the anti-vivisection movement. In view of the immense amount of work being undertaken by the local society every effort will be made to increase its membership. In behalf of the funds of the society a bridge party will be held on Friday, November 21, at the New Thought Hall, Fort Street. Reservations may be secured from Mrs. Bonavia, Phone E-mpire 0555.

IN FRANCE, TWELVE YEARS AGO

U.S. Bank Clearings Show Heavy Drops

Bank clearings show a further marked setback this week, the total for leading cities in the United States, as reported to Dun's Review, of $7,996,946,000 being 61.8 per cent below those of last year. At New York City, the amount is $5,303,000,000, or 67.7 per cent under that of a year ago, and the aggregate at leading centres outside of New York of $2,693,946,000 is 37.8 per cent smaller.

At a period of the year when payments through the banks normally show a marked tendency toward higher totals, the report of bank clearings, both for this week and last week, clearly indicated a decided movement in the opposite directions.

At this time last year, bank clearings had risen to much the highest figures ever recorded; hence the exceptional losses.

There is also a considerable reduction this week from the amount shown in 1928, at which time more normal conditions prevailed.

Clearings for the week, as reported to R. G. Dun & Company, and average daily bank clearing for the past three months, are compared herewith:

COPPER, LEAD, ZINC IMPORT TOTALS GIVEN

Some idea of just what is taking place in countries whose imports have played a large part in keeping up prices for copper, zinc and lead may be obtained by a review of the American Bureau of Metal Statistics. Of the European countries, France, Great Britain and Sweden are the only three to show demands for copper during 1930 to date.

In the first seven months of 1930 France has imported a monthly average of 11,162 tons of copper, compared with 11,626 in 1929 and 10,360 in 1928. Great Britain has imported in the first nine months of the year an average of 11,331 tons of copper, compared with 11,443 in 1929 and 11,571 in 1928. The monthly average imported by Belgium, Germany, Italy, Japan and Austria are 10,793, 10,793, 10,793, 10,793 and 10,793 respectively. The monthly average imported by the United States is 10,793.

Lead importing countries in the months to date of 1930 show to much better advantage than copper. For instance, in the first nine months of this year Great Britain has imported an average of 22,818 tons monthly, compared with 21,806 tons in 1929 and 19,653 tons in 1928. France is likewise approximately 40 per cent ahead in its monthly average of lead importations this year. However, Germany's lead importations have fallen off from around 10,000 to 4,484 tons monthly average. Italy also shows nearly 45 per cent decrease. Japan has not particularly changed this year in the first eight months.

Zinc importing countries, as shown by records for 1930 to date, 1929 and 1928, are keeping their monthly average fairly even. Like in lead, Great Britain and France are ahead in monthly average imported.

Many Are Immune To Infantile Paralysis

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

If it were not for the fact that many people have a natural immunity to infantile paralysis, the amount of crippling and permanent injury from this disease would be far greater than it now is.

Unquestionably the virus or agent that causes infantile paralysis is widely distributed so that opportunity is open for infection. There seems to be considerable likelihood that people who have some immunity to the disease develop increasing immunity as they grow older.

Furthermore, as one reaches adult age he is less frequently exposed to the disease than when he was a child. Some investigators have argued that immunity decreases with age, and that it is only the lessened exposure that keeps most adults from having the disease.

It is known, of course, that immunity to other infectious diseases brought about by inoculation against them tends to wear off after a period of time. It is known that the incidence of both infantile paralysis and diphtheria is low in infants under one year of age, probably because such infants are not frequently exposed to these diseases, but probably also because the infant at birth has in his blood immune bodies against infectious diseases derived from the mother.

For instance, one investigator tested the blood of seven mothers and blood taken from the umbilical cord of seven infants, and found that the amount of antitoxin against diphtheria was the same in nature and in amount in the blood of both mother and child. Other observers tested mothers and infants at 143 births and found that in ninety-six per cent of the cases mothers and infants corresponded with each other in having or in not having antitoxin.

Workers in the Harvard Medical School have recently tested the blood of nine months and their infants for substances antagonistic to the virus or causative agent of infantile paralysis. The evidence indicated clearly that where the mother is immune to this disease, there is a passive transmission of this immunity to the infant.

Apparently the relative infrequency of infantile paralysis in infants under one year of age is due in a considerable measure to the transmission of the substance which opposes infantile paralysis from the mother to the infant at birth.

There was complete correspondence between mother and infant in ten out of twelve cases. It was found also that the immunity transferred from the mother to the child is not permanent. It tends to wear off so that by the time the child is five years of age much of the immunity transferred from the mother may be lost.

Recent extension work in the No. 3 tunnel has resulted in the finding of gold. The two one-half foot vein in the ore body in which the first gold samples were found some weeks ago has also been found to persist without diminution, indicating that it is a substantial and permanent ore body. As the tunnel face is still about 300 feet from its objective, the highly mineralized zone, the continued gold showings are considered very encouraging by Mr. Hovland, who is confident that contact with the big vein will disclose a considerable concentration of ore. The vein, which is one of a series of strong showings, has been traced over 600 feet on the surface, where it carries a good gold content, in addition to strong galena deposition which yields high assays.

SUPPOSE there came a message to you to-night—from your father—saying, "Son, I am poor and old and helpless. It will cost 50 cents a day to care for me. Will you do it?"

Would your answer be, "I can't afford it?"

Some day, if you live, you will have an old man to support—YOURSELF.

It will cost less than 50 cents a day now to provide for him.

Is your answer still, "I can't afford it?"

Let a Manufacturers Life policy provide for the old man you may be some day.

IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL SERVICE AT CATHEDRAL

Rev. O. L. Jull Gives Stirring Message to Veterans Honoring Heroic Dead in Christ Church Cathedral; Parade of Men Who Fought in Great War Led by Band of Fifth Coast Artillery Brigade; Lieut. Governor Bruce Attends.

"Twelve years have passed, and instead of obtaining those promises we have huge war debts, abnormal business depression, millions of unemployed and distrust among nations. The possibility of another war, even worse than the last, is hinted at already."

Rev. O. L. Jull, rector of St. Mark's, spoke vibrantly and with conviction in addressing 300 war veterans and a large gathering of citizens at the memorial service held Sunday afternoon in Christ Church Cathedral.

He took his text from Hebrews, x, 19, "These all died in faith, not having received promises."

GAVE LIVES IN FAITH

"We know that these words refer to certain Old Testament characters, but I believe that there is a sense in which we can apply them to the men whose memory we revere to-day. They laid down their lives in faith that the promises made to them would be fulfilled in the near future. Many of us confidently believed that they would soon after the signing of the Armistice in 1918."

"We were fighting to make the world safe for democracy to make England and other parts of the Empire fit places for heroes to live in. We were fighting a war to end war."

PARADE OF VETERANS

The service of remembrance was preceded by a parade of veterans with Lieut.-Gen. Sir Percy Lake in command, with Major P. T. Stern as adjutant and Sergt-Major Frank Hatcher as marshal.

At 2.30 o'clock the men assembled on Bannard Street at the intersection of Broughton, and shortly before 3 o'clock, marching in the strains of "Colonel Bogey," played by the band of the Fifth Coast Artillery Brigade, the veterans proceeded via Burdett Avenue to the cathedral.

The band was under the direction of Bandmaster Charles A. Raine and led by Drum-Major A. Rudge.

A number of military officers were present in the ranks and at the service.

The service opened with the hymn, "O God, Help in Area Past." The invocation prayer was given by Rev. G. C. F. Pringle, pastor of Centennial Church.

The scripture reading was by the Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, pastor of the First United Church. Prayers were read by Dean Cecil S. Quainton.

CAUSES OF WAR

"Peace loving people all the world over have been trying to trace the causes of war and to seek the necessary remedies to secure its abolition."

said Rev. Mr. Jull, speaking with marked earnestness.

"According to the Lambeth Conference the causes are briefly these:

"1. Inflamed and aggressive nationalism.
"2. Fear and distrust between nations.
"3. Economic competition.

"Various remedies have been advanced, and put into practice which it is hoped will 'make wars to come in the world.'"

"First in order comes the League of Nations. Speaking of the League, the Archbishop of Canterbury said: 'I am persuaded that the principles of the League of Nations are in accord with the Spirit of Christ.'"

Mr. Jull, in referring to critics of the League, said that "whatever sincere and earnest men and women were gathered together, planning to reduce the ills of humanity, we must expect the Holy Spirit to be present."

LEADERS TO FRONT LINE

"Another somewhat original remedy was that suggested by Brigadier-General Crozier, who said: 'I urge the sending into the front line trenches in the next war of all politicians, diplomats, kings and rulers.'"

"If this could be done we are quite sure that it would not be very long before there would be no more wars."

"Statesmen are handicapped when the peoples, whom they represent are morally inert. In fact the cause of our ills to-day is not an economic device called capitalism, but the spirit of anti-Christ. I confess that I see no hope of moral progress except in a religious revival which shall fire men with simple and sincere enthusiasm for the teaching of Jesus Christ."

The Lambeth Conference endorsed this saying by declaring, "Only a spiritual revival can insure the peace of the world."

"I believe in education, but not in schools. I believe in society but not in government. The church is the one agency whose whole business is to do the work of Jesus Christ in the present world."

Admitting the past weaknesses of the church, Mr. Jull drew the attention of the congregation to the stand the bishops had taken at the recent Conference on their attitude to war.

They declared: "War as a method of settling international disputes is incompatible with the teaching and example of our Lord Jesus Christ."

"Since most nations have solemnly vowed themselves to a pacific settlement of international disputes, the Christian church in every nation should refuse to countenance any war in regard to which the government of its own country has not declared its willingness to submit the matter in dispute to arbitration or conciliation."

It would be immensely difficult for the Anglican Communion to prevent many of the Protestant Communions were like minded in this matter. What is needed is that the whole of the Christian church should be willing and glad to sit at round tables, conferences and other meetings to help one another in this glorious task which is in keeping with the Mind of the Master.

This would not be a matter of sacrificing one's religious convictions, but joining together as God's children engaged in God's work. Let us hope the day is not far distant when this will be done, for Christ Himself said: 'Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God.'

CO-OPERATION OF CHURCHES

"Objections have been raised against the erection of war memorials and decorating them with flowers. We are told that in so doing we arouse bitter memories and glorify war," the speaker said.

Mr. Jull took strong exception to the second reason advanced; namely, glorifying war.

"Just before He died Christ instituted a service whereby we were to be continually reminded of His death."

"Did He do that to glorify the brutality of those men who murdered Him or did He do it so that we might be reminded just how far God's love will go for us men and for our salvation?"

"And we, too, lay our wreaths at the Cenotaph as a token of pride, admiration and love for those who paid the supreme sacrifice."

No doubt bitter memories will be aroused, but let us not be sorry as men without hope," went on the speaker.

"When the late Col. McCrae wrote those lines 'And now we lie in Flanders Fields' he was using poetic licence."

"Their bodies, like that of John Brown, lie mouldering in the grave, but their souls go marching on. The New Testament teaches this, and the innumerable psychic experiences of those who have felt their 'lost ones' return to them should comfort those that mourn. And the probability that they know something about our affairs here should fill us with determination to obtain those promises for which they died in faith."

Mr. Jull brought his sermon to a conclusion by reading "Last We Forget," an Armistice poem written by D. G. Tuckwell, a citizen of Victoria.

At the conclusion of the address by Rev. Mr. Jull the hymn "The Silent Tribute" was sung and the "Last Post" was sounded.

As the veterans emerged from the cathedral at the conclusion of the service and marched back to the starting point to the martial air of "The Great Little Army," the sun broke through the threatening clouds.

METROPOLITAN GIVES THANKS FOR HARVEST

Rev. F. J. Reynalls Points to Higher Striving in Lives of Men in Special Service

Prayers of thanksgiving for the harvest and a message pointing the way to a higher harvest in the lives of men featured the service held at the Metropolitan United Church yesterday morning.

In the feature address Rev. F. J. Reynalls, of the First Baptist Church, outlined a course of higher striving for the finer things of life, saying that through the winter, spring and summer of existence man was striving for the ultimate goal of a greater harvest.

Yet, when the objective was achieved, the receiver should not be blinded by the sight of his harvest, but should remember, with due humility, the source from which it came.

It was the task of the present generation to grasp the torch which had been thrown from the falling hands of those who had made the supreme sacrifice and to work for the higher goal, Rev. Reynalls said.

Touching on the Great War, the speaker pointed out that if one quarter of the lives and money which had been sacrificed in the conflict had been devoted to peace, the latter cause would be triumphant throughout the world to-day.

CROWN OF YEARS LABOR

The harvest, he said, represented the crown of the year's labor, it was the goodness of the season. Crowns were also offered for men in their ordinary lives and were the rewards for success after legitimate work. But no harvest or reward was to be achieved without its attendant labor and sacrifice, he said.

Quoting Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," Rev. Reynalls stated that this poem, the crown of the poet's life, had been achieved after eighty years of labor. It was the outcome of the human toll of a life time and had been, as the poet said, inspired from above.

In the human soul the period of ploughing must be observed, the seed of higher things must be planted and the weeds of sin must be exterminated before the harvest could be reaped, he continued.

WORK MAN'S SALVATION

Work was man's salvation, he added, noting that in the tropics, where sustenance could be gained with little effort, races of low standard were to be found.

There were in the city many destitute people, he said, adding that he hoped the doors of his hearers' homes would be open to them that the less fortunate might enjoy some of the blessings of the favored ones.

In conclusion he stated that the crown of harvest was not for ornament alone, but for utility.

Before taking the offering, Rev. F. J. S. Luttrell stated the sum collected would be devoted to the Red Cross and the Bazaar.

"We can only honor the memory of those who died for their country in the Great War," he said, "but we can do more for the disabled, for the men whose health was broken down and whose economic standard has been menaced by the war."

The service opened with the doxology, which was followed by the singing of hymn 34. Rev. G. Pringle read from the 107th Psalm. Hymns 629 and 628 were also sung during the service.

NONAGENARIAN MILLIONAIRE OF IOWA DIES

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 11.—Fred M. Hubbell, financier, was found dead in his bed to-day.

Frederick Marion Hubbell, a notable figure in business and finance in Iowa was one of the state's wealthiest citizens, possessing a fortune founded on life insurance, real estate and railroad building.

During the early years of his career he engaged in the practice of law, but after a quarter of a century he quit that profession and turned his attention to real estate. Thereafter he put his whole time to the management of his properties.

Few wealthy men have so concentrated their holdings as did Mr. Hubbell. Nearly all of his real estate holdings, which were extensive, were grouped in and around the business centre of Des Moines. He specialized in the purchase of corner lots with a keen foresight of what the future would bring.

In 1867 Mr. Hubbell helped organize the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa, of which he was president from 1888 to 1907, and from the latter year chairman of the board of trustees. During his active years as a lawyer he helped to build or finance many narrow gauge railroad lines in Central Iowa, disposing of his interests in them later when the largest systems entered the state.

WORKED FOR $8.33 A MONTH
Mr. Hubbell was born at Huntington, Conn., January 17, 1839. His father, a farmer and stone mason, went west in 1855. The son's first employment was as a clerk in the federal land office at $8.33 a month.

In 1863 Mr. Hubbell married Frances Elizabeth Cooper of Des Moines. They had two sons and a daughter. The latter was married to Count Wachenmeister of Sweden in 1912, since which time they have made their home in Paris.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Thanksgiving services were held in all Christian Science churches and societies on Monday morning. The Golden Text was from Psalms 97:12, "Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous; and give thanks at the remembrance of His holiness."

Following the reading of passages from the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the service was devoted to testimonials of gratitude.

JUDGE URGES APPLE POOL TO BE REASONABLE, WHILE 100 CARS APPLES FACE TIE-UP

Vancouver, Nov. 11.—Both fruit-growers and the interior tree, fruit and vegetable committee of direction should try to work the produce marketing act in a reasonable and harmonious spirit and avoid trouble, said Mr. Justice Gregory, in Supreme Court today.

The judge reserved decision on an application made by H. B. Robertson, K.C., on behalf of the committee, to have set aside an interim injunction granted British Columbia Orchards, Limited, of Kelowna, when the committee threatened to cancel the company's shipping license because it refused to pay $1,000 into the committee's pool equalization fund.

In the opinion of Oliver Jennings, managing director of British Columbia Orchards, which is engaged in the business of packing and shipping fruit and produce, the suspension of the company's license at the present time would affect the movement of 100 cars of fruit, valued at about $125,000.

The company is agent for forty-five Okanagan growers.

H. V. Craig, counsel for B. C. Orchards, stated his client's position was that the $1,000 was growers' money which the company had paid into court. Notwithstanding this offer, he said, the committee had announced that the shipper's license would be cancelled unless the money was paid to it.

The 1930 amendment to the Produce Marketing Act dealing with pooling arrangements are the subject of attack by B. C. Orchards, which contends the legislation is ultra vires.

"If people having control of the act are going to act in an arbitrary manner they create a feeling of discontent and the act becomes abortive," commented the judge. "I think as far as the fruit board is concerned it should meet the people reasonably and the growers should take the same attitude. If the fruit committee and the shippers and the growers would try to work harmoniously there would be no trouble."

"PERFECT" POOL NOW AIM OF GRAIN GROWERS

Manitoba Producers' Meeting
Decides For Active Campaign of Education

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—Trend of the prairie west toward compulsory pooling of wheat promised to-day to embrace a new province—Manitoba. Two months ago wheat pool farmers in Saskatchewan balloted in favor of 100 per cent pooling of primary produce. Yesterday delegates at the closing session of the Manitoba pool's annual meeting favored an active campaign of education on the 100 per cent pooling plan.

The move of the Manitoba pool farmers parallels the step taken by United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, a year ago as a definite stand in favor of the so-called "perfect pool," persuaded officials of the pool in Saskatchewan to ballot among their members, and finally reached a primary objective when the ballots favored a 100 per cent pool.

As soon as directors of the Manitoba pool deem it advisable, they will take a ballot of members on the plan. It was decided. If the 100 per cent system okayed in Manitoba, the two provinces will go on record in favor of the plan. The next move will be to petition the province for legislation enabling the effect of a primary products act, following which a referendum of wheat growers, pool and non-members, would be held on the matter. So far, farmers in Alberta, where the first Canadian wheat pool was formed, have taken no stand on the 100 per cent pool plan.

TO CONSIDER 1931 CROP
Legislation—Federal and provincial—to regulate operations of grain exchanges will be asked for, the delegates decided, the enactment, which it was stated the pools of the three prairie provinces would seek, would enable the government to secure accurate information concerning all operations of the exchanges.

Next summer, if prevailing economic depression continues, the board of directors will call a special meeting of delegates to consider the question of handling the 1931 crop. It was the opinion of the delegates, however, that the pool followed the proper course last year in marketing members' grain, and the convention refused to pass a resolution urging the central selling agency to adopt a more vigorous selling policy during the fall months.

POOL FRUIT SELLING PLAN

Compulsory Policy For Okanagan Proposed By
F. M. Black

Whole Crop Should Be Handled By One Agency,
Says Expert

A compulsory selling agency for the fruit crop of the Okanagan Valley, perhaps the most important departure in controlled marketing since the inauguration of the Produce Marketing Act, has been proposed to the government by F. M. Black, chairman of the interior committee of direction.

In a written memorandum submitted to all members of the cabinet, Mr.

Black described the advantages of a scheme whereby all the fruit of the valley would be handled through one agency, with the elimination of all the other machinery which at present is carrying on this business. The selling agency it is proposed would be established under the committee of direction and would eliminate all the existing duplication in marketing operations.

Under the existing wide-open system, the selling of Okanagan fruit costs some $500,000 a year it is stated. Mr. Black believes that almost $400,000 of this could be saved to the growers by a central selling agency.

TOLMIE TO DIGEST IT
Premier Tolmie said the government would digest Mr. Black's memorandum over the week-end, before making any comment on it. If the scheme is pressed by the fruit growers it will probably come before the Legislature as a private bill; for governments in the past have invariably declined to sponsor amendments to the Produce Marketing Act.

It is expected the whole scheme will be laid before the fruit growers in detail during the next few days, so that they may discuss it, and come to a definite conclusion on it, before the House meets early in the year.

It is understood here that there is strong opinion for and against the project among the fruit men.

Manitoba Pool Re-elects Officers

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—Colin H. Burnell of Oakville, Man., was re-elected president of the Manitoba wheat pool at the concluding session of the annual convention here. It will be Mr. Burnell's seventh consecutive year as head of the Manitoba body.

Paul Bredt of Kenney, Man., was re-elected vice-president and W. G. A. Courlay of Dauphin was named to the executive. These three officers constitute the executive of the pool and are the representatives of the pool on the board of central selling agency.

F. W. Ransom was reappointed secretary.

Remember the Golden Rule!

For some weeks now I have been urging consumers in every part of Canada to buy your products in preference to imported products. I have tried to make it quite clear to them that, in their own interest, it's the common sense thing to do.

Now if it is sound common sense that your fellow Canadians should support you, in your efforts to increase and to improve your production, isn't it also sound common sense that you, in the purchase of your materials, should support other Canadian producers who are trying to increase and to improve their production?

It's a poor rule that won't work both ways! When others wrench themselves out of life-long habits to do something that will help you, don't you agree that it's up to you to reciprocate in whatever way you can?

So let me ask you very frankly—are you co-operating in this campaign as fully as you might co-operate? When you buy materials and supplies, do you always make a conscientious effort to find some Canadian producer who can give you what will fill the bill? Conceding for the sake of argument that there are certain things you must import, because they cannot be produced in Canada, are your reasons for importing other things that do not fall within that category such that you would have no hesitation in making them public?

No fair-minded person is ever going to reproach you for buying imported materials and supplies when you can advance perfectly valid reasons for doing so. For example, if, after making diligent search, you were unable to find a single Canadian producer who could make delivery in the quality, and in the quantity, and within the time necessary to meet your requirements, and at a price you could afford to pay, that would be sufficient reason for your giving your order to a foreign producer.

And yet it hardly seems like playing the game, does it? It's equivalent to saying to the small Canadian producer—"To qualify for my business, you've got to show me that you can meet your big foreign competitor on every point—quality, quantity, time and price—otherwise you don't get it!"

If every Canadian consumer had always taken that stand, and stuck to it, many a man who is a successful Canadian manufacturer to-day would have lost his entire stake without ever having made a sale! But despite the competition he was up against, and the handicaps under which he had to labour, he made sales because there were enough Canadian consumers willing to see to it that he got his start.

So I ask you, aren't there times when you could well afford to show some Canadian producer just that little extra consideration that would be the means of starting him on his way to bigger and better business? If he cannot give you the quantity you want, within the time you want it, the reason probably is that you and other Canadian manufacturers have never given him enough business to warrant him enlarging the modest little plant he began with. If he cannot deliver you out of stock the exact quality you want, might he not soon be able to do so with the patronage that you and others might give him, by enabling him to keep pace with his big foreign competitor in bidding for skilled labour, in trying out new processes, and equipping himself with new devices as they are brought out? And if his price is a little high, just ask yourself if the preservation of your business makes it absolutely necessary for you to buy in the cheapest market!

As I write this I have before me two competitive articles, both produced in Canada. They sell to the same class of people, at the same price, and are apparently on a parity so far as quality is concerned. Both are made from the same kind of material, but whereas the material in one is 100 per cent Canadian, the material in the other is 100 per cent imported. The producer of the article made from Canadian material admits that he could make a little more profit for himself by using imported material, but he won't do it—he says he doesn't need to! The producer of the article made from imported material, while contending that the exigencies of his business make it necessary for him to buy in the cheapest market, only uses that as an excuse to swell his profits!

If you want the "Produced in Canada" movement to be a real success—to bear abundant fruit—remember the Golden Rule, and do unto others as you would have others do unto you! Don't assume that a thing is not now procurable in Canada, just because it wasn't when you first started importing it! Why not take us into your confidence regarding all your importations, and see if we cannot help you to locate suitable Canadian sources of supply?

Very sincerely yours,

H. V. Stevens
Minister of Trade and Commerce.

What Is True Friendship?—Straight Talk To Girl Who Chatters About Nothing—Why Wife Who Married Too Young Must Carry On

DEAR MISS DIX—Would you mind telling me just what is your idea of friendship? I consider it a give-and-take proposition, and there are times when I give much more than I take, yet I get more pleasure from the giving. But to be a little more concrete, I have several friends who have all the qualities one would desire in the ideal friend. One offered when I sorely needed it to let me have a sum of money, and in so doing I knew that he was making a great sacrifice. I, of course, refused. On the other hand, I have another friend who has a heart of gold, yet he is careless and irresponsible. I lend him my car sometimes and he does not always bring it back in the same condition that he received it. My folks say that he is just making a good thing of me, yet I find that I love him for just what he is—his big, careless, irresponsible self. What do you think?

J. M. A.

Answer: I think that you have a fine and noble conception of friendship. The only way we can get any pleasure out of our friends is by accepting them as they are instead of trying to make them over according to some little standardized pattern of our own.

As a matter of fact, the thing that kills friendship oftener than anything else is the effort people make to force their friends to conform to all their ways and prejudices. Their friends must think as they think, must live as they live, must read the books they read and vote the same political ticket, must hold their own religious beliefs and play the same kind of bridge that they play.

Most of us get tired of their petty tyranny and rebel against it. The friendship that we have to buy with our personal liberty comes at too high a price, and so we drift away from those whom we really love and an affection that might have beautified our lives is lost.

You will invariably find that people who complain that they have no friends are men and women of the rigid reformer type, who feel that they have a right to police the lives of those with whom they associate.

Cassius said to Brutus: "A friend should bear with a friend's infirmities." He may even do more. He may love him the more and be more tender to him because of certain weaknesses that call forth in us a sympathy and a protective quality that we do not give to the strong.

The thing that makes friendship so rich is that we can love a dozen different people for a dozen different qualities. We can admire and love a man because he is so competent and strong and we can love James because he is a Peter Pan who will never grow up and realize a man's responsibilities. We can love Bill because he is witty and brilliant and cynical and Percy because his head and heart are full of beautiful dreams and he is as confiding as a child.

But you already know all of this and more, for you have the gift of friendship, which, believe me, is God's benediction on a man.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a sixteen-year-old girl, good-looking and well dressed, but I talk an awful lot and never stop to think before I speak. But here is my tale of woe. I can't seem to make a hit with the boys. Do you think my talking too much has anything to do with it? SWEET SIXTEEN.

Answer: I should say yes, because if you chatter all the time without putting any thought into what you are saying you must be such a bore that you can't wonder that anybody flees from you. Believe me, my dear child, there is no one else in the world so tiresome as the woman who just babbles. Conversation to be agreeable is a give-and-take proposition. It is not a one-way game. Everybody must be drawn into it and take part in it.

Nobody wants to listen to the individuals who monologue along, no matter what experiences they have had, no matter how famous they may be. Consider, then, how a little sixteen-year-old girl, who is such a chatterbox that nobody can shut her up, must get upon the nerves of those who are afflicted with her society.

When you are older you will learn a very critical fact and that is that the general public has the faintest interest in our private affairs and doesn't want to hear a thing about where we spent the summer or what a peachy fellow we met or the wonderful hay ride we took. Nor does it want to hear about our ailments or our operations or our cooks or our husbands or our wives or our children or our men-servants or our maid-servants or anything else that concerns us.

On the contrary, it wants to tell us all the thrilling details of its own private history, and if we listen with an absorbed expression and ask a few questions that shows an intelligent interest we get the reputation of being spellbinders.

As for your speaking without thinking and saying the first thing that pops into your head, that is folly beyond compare. It savors of idiocy. Correct that fault immediately. Otherwise it will lead you into every sort of embarrassing predicament.

And cultivate the habit of silence and meditation. Nothing will do more to make you attractive in men's eyes or to fit you to become a more desirable wife.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a woman of twenty-four, with three small children. My husband is a fine man, kind and good and tender, a good provider, a model husband and father.

But I married when I was only seventeen, and now I am not satisfied. Many a night I cry myself to sleep over my mistake in marriage. My husband does not suspect how I feel. I make a happy home for him, prepare a good dinner, have the children dolled up when he returns from work and greet him with a smile, but my heart is dull as rust.

HELEN.

Answer: Yours is the common tragedy of those who marry too young. The man who fired the fancy of the schoolgirl doesn't appeal to the woman of twenty-four. He may be all that is good and kind, but as an old colored woman said: "She done lost her taste for him." And you can't argue with tastes. You can't change liking into love again. You can't bring lukewarm affection up to the boiling point once more. You can't put back into matrimony the thrill after it has once been lost.

But there is no use crying over spilled milk. What you did, you did and it is clearly your duty to carry on and make the best of the bargain you have made. You are in honor bound to make happy the husband who has done his part so well. You have no right to punish him for your mistake. And you have your obligation to your children. No woman has a right to consider her happiness when it conflicts with her children's good.

My advice to you is to think as little as you can about your dissatisfaction with your life. Don't brood over what might have been, for that way madness lies. And, above all, shut your heart against other men. You can keep them out if you are on guard, and that will save you the worst suffering. And remember that if you do your duty you will have for your comfort the peace that passes all understanding.

DOROTHY DIX.

M'LEOD PLAYERS
OPEN HERE FOR SECOND SEASON

Company Is Accorded Enthusiastic Reception on Return to City

"Bluebeard's Eighth Wife"

Delights as Opening Production

Indicative of whole-hearted support of Victoria theatregoers for the popular Gordon McLeod Players during their season here this winter, was the fine reception accorded the company on its return to the city yesterday evening in "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife."

The Royal Victoria was virtually filled with a holiday audience for the performance, and the familiar players, amongst the cast were greeted with hearty applause. Gordon McLeod, who directed the production, appeared at the end of the performance and expressed thanks on behalf of himself and the members of the company for the interest the Victoria public had shown in inviting their return. The players, he said, were happy to be back, and were confident that the support of the public would warrant a season as long as last year.

Five members of last season's company with new talent which promises exceptional entertainment during the present run, make up the company.

MISS CHRISTINE IN LEAD
Miss Lillian Christine has returned, if possible more charming than ever. She has the leading role in the production and fully justified the warm and whole-hearted reception she was accorded. Peggy Burnand, who joined the company toward the end of last season, has a minor role, while George Durham, whose comedy roles were among the bright features of previous performances, delighted in the role of a divorcee.

Among the new faces are those of Robert A'Dair, leading man, and Wylie Watson, who this week plays as a tuxedo French marquis.

In "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," Mr. McLeod chose a play suitably adapted to the talents of his company. This remarkable farce comedy adapted from the French original of Alfred Savoir by Carlton Andrews, has an appeal which cannot be denied.

Briefly, the play deals with the efforts of Monna, daughter of the Marquis, to win and keep the affections of John Brandon, millionaire and "practical psychologist" who has already been married seven times, having divorced six of his wives. Miss Christine has the part of Monna, and is seen to excellent advantage, the hole giving her exceptional opportunity to display the wit and sarcasm which she handles so well. Mr. A'Dair has the part of Brandon.

In the battle of wits with her husband, Monna at first drives him to distraction and almost to the divorce which will leave her with a settlement of 400,000 francs a year. Finally, of course, he realises his real love for her when he finds Albert de Moreau, her one-time fiance, in her bedroom, brought there deliberately by Monna. Monna is fast and furious, after that the usual happy ending.

Patrick Ludlow, as Albert, gives a finished performance of a tipsy individual during the bedroom scene. He says that the scene in which he undresses is uproarious, is putting it mildly.

Closely watching the battle between the two leading characters are the Marquis and his other daughter, Lucienne, played by Miss Burnand. Armand Kay, the divorce detective, as interpreted by Mr. Durham, was a laughable character, while in Elly Malton, as Miss George, the cast appears to have some real dramatic talent. Hugh Symington made a brief appearance in a secretary role.

REX BEACH DRAMA
OF ALASKA SHOWS
AT THE DOMINION

Not one ship, but a fleet of vessels, were used by Paramount for filming the sea sequences of "The Spoilers," directed by Edwin Carewe, and the first all-talking pictorial version of the Rex Beach drama.

With Gary Cooper starred, the picture will headline at the Dominion Theatre to-day and Wednesday.

A 6,000-ton vessel, the Santa Maria, once on the Alaska run during the gold rush days, was reconitted at San Pedro shipyards and put in service for the picture. Two more modern vessels from the Wrigley line were brought into service, as was a three-masted schooner and four large lighters. In addition, there were a number of small boats and barges.

PICTURE OF PARIS
NOW AT COLUMBIA WITH POPULAR STAR

"The Battle of Paris" is a phrase that needs no explanation to members of the A.E.P., who recall pleasant moments spent in this important engagement of Iroquois fame.

Gertrude Lawrence, popular musical comedy star, has pictured this light side of the war into an all-talking and singing feature, now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

ROMANTIC STORY OF MILITARY LIFE
HERE AT CAPITOL

Daring from the first kiss to the final embrace: Romance of a wedding and a marriage, and the most surprising and amusing of climaxes.

This is First National's all-color comic opera, "Bride of the Regiment," which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre. The picture is a lavish depiction of romance and Italian temperament against a background of beautiful settings and intriguing comedy. It is doubtful if the sets ever have been surpassed in point of beauty. Interiors of an Italian castle and a cathedral are like exquisite paintings.

Vivienne Segal is the charming bride of a few hours around whom the musical story centres.

"BROADWAY MELODY"
WITH CHARLIE KING
AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Charles King, celebrated star of many musical comedies and popular baritone of Broadway, made his screen debut in First National's all-color production, "The Broadway Melody," now playing at the Playhouse Theatre. So successful was this first screen portrayal of his that he has been given a long-term contract by M-G-M and will appear in several musical comedy films in the future.

BETTY BALFOUR IS POPULAR ACTRESS
AT THE COLISEUM

Miss Betty Balfour, who has long been accepted as Britain's premier screen comedienne, can thank the coming of the talking pictures for enabling her to increase her scope. In "Raise the Roof," Betty Balfour's first talking picture, now showing at the Coliseum Theatre, which was made by British International and distributed by First National Pathé, it is obvious that she is twice as winsome, twice as sassy and twice as entertaining, as she was in her former pictures.

"Raise the Roof" is the name of a travelling theatrical company in which Miss Balfour has manifold opportunities of displaying those qualities which made her one of the most popular film artists, and in addition prove her to possess the ability of putting over a song with great point, and sing in a particularly pleasing voice.

A strong cast supports the star. Jack Raine is the self-confident young actor, Sam Livesey plays the father, and Maurice Evans plays opposite Miss Balfour in the love interest.

DEATH CAUSES
VACANCY IN THE SENATE

Funeral of Late Hon. J. G. Turriff Arranged in Ottawa

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—Arrangements were being made to-day for the funeral of the late Senator J. G. Turriff of Saskatchewan.

Senator Turriff died yesterday afternoon at his home here after a lengthy illness.

Born at Little Metts, Quebec, in 1855, Senator Turriff was educated there and in Montreal. He was first at the age of twenty-three, locating first at Morden, Manitoba, and later at Carleton Place, Saskatchewan. He was the first member for the Moose Mountain district in the Northwest Council, and was re-elected for the same district to the Northwest Legislature in 1901.

After unsuccessfully contesting West Assiniboia as a Liberal in 1908, he was appointed commissioner of Dominion lands, holding that position until he resigned in 1904 to contest Assiniboia. He was successful then and was re-elected in 1908, 1911 and 1917. He was summoned to the Senate in 1918.

The vacancy caused by Senator Turriff's death will be the first to be filled by the Bennett Government. Senator Turriff styled himself a Progressive, but gave fairly consistent support for the Liberals.

The Liberal majority in the Senate is now three.
